| Contexto del término          | ..."Historical Romance tells the burning love stories of the past. In Diana Gabaldon's epic Outlander (1991) series, a British nurse has just returned from the war when she's mysteriously thrown 202 years back in time and has an affair for the ages. Margaret Mitchell's Gone with the Wind (1936) introduces the world to Scarlett O'Hara, a young woman determined to marry well during post-Civil War reconstruction." |
